ICS4U7-3B Internal Assessment Appendix A

Determining Success Criteria with Client:

Due to the COVID-19 pandemic, I was unable to meet with my client (and advisor) in person, so we discussed the success criteria through a phone call.

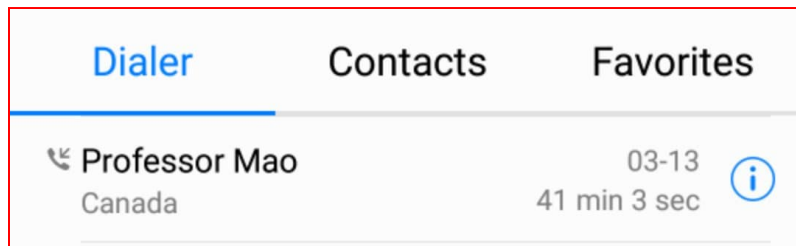

Figure 1: A record of my phone call with my violin teacher from March 13, 2021.

Points Mentioned:

- Program should include allow multiple users to use it separately

    - His wife is also in the music industry and could use it too

- Should include a functioning calendar that allows repeating events

    - He wants to be able to add lessons, which mostly repeat weekly

    - Maybe also include indicators on the calendar that show which dates have events on them

- Lists of names should be able to be sortable

    - Makes it easier for him to keep track of who's who since he has many students

    - Maybe cap it at around 30–40 students

    - Consider both first and last names sorting

- Should be able to store notes and information about individual students

    - Ex: musical repertoire, lesson dates, extra notes, payment schedule, etc.

- A built-in calculator would be nice so he doesn't need to fetch one every time he's calculating costs

- Student information should be searchable so he can organize and find data quickly

- Colour scheme should soft on the eyes (consider lighter colours)

  - "Because he's old"